Coaching – Mission

We do coaching as we believe that it is one to one work in which people find their potential to truly fulfil their goals. Training gives you knowledge, skills or inspiration – coaching motivates for change.

We specialize in coaching focused on happiness at work. We usually coach management teams of large organizations or owners of medium size enterprises.

Style of work

Each of us works within the ethical frames of ICF. We train and develop in international courses (CoachU) and in mentoring sessions with the most experienced Master Coaches worldwide.

Our coaching styles are based on curiosity about the world and on discovering new things. Our clients are people who wish to go beyond their everyday habits.

Together, we look not only for technical solutions and ways to cope with challenges, but mainly for answers to questions “Why?”. We select our clients carefully and work with those who have a courage and motivation for change. We value the full confidentiality of coaching activities and also the assumption that coaching is not only a pleasant conversation but also a road map for change and action in the client’s life.

Halina Piasecka

ACC IFF. Executive coach

I work with top executive managers within their coaching goals related to happiness at work, leadership efficiency, team management, emotional intelligence and coping with stress. I often support women who take up executive positions in organizations and help them manage the change that their promotion has resulted in important issues.

Also, I specialize in coaching French-speaking managers. I have been cooperating with the Polish-French Chamber of Commerce for years, and since 2015 I have been the Vice-President of the Board of the Chamber.

I run coaching sessions in Polish, French and English.

Maciej Żylewicz

ACC IFF. Executive coach

I accompany you when you want to step out your business comfort zone. When you want to do something in a totally different way, when you want to search for effectiveness or for satisfaction at work.

I like to work with the IT branch, within new technologies, and with people who have a very rational approach to life. My experience has taught me how to ask the right questions that lead to changes. I am inspired by neuroscience – its discoveries let us overcome the obstacles to the coaching goals quicker.

I run coaching sessions in Polish and English.
